DETAILED ACTION

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 43-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for [0075] Obviously, the deformable main body 2 of the present embodiment can also be filled with a dispersible substance, such as a flavoring substance or a toothpaste or therapeutic substance with said substance being released, during use, through small passages provided into said main body. Alternatively, the deformable main body 2 can be impregnated with said dispersible substance.

a. Claim 43 has been reworded but the term Impregnated seems to imply something out side of the device is supply some additional elements. The term by definition requires something or some matter be added to a surface being impregnated.

b. does not reasonably provide enablement for a dispersible substance impregnated within said inner main body. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make main body impregnated with said dispersible the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The small passages in the main body are the only way the body can be impregnated with said dispersible material;

Art Unit: 3727

However, there is no disclosure body or material holding a dispersible material outside of having a pocket.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 43-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Drulias et al (5392482).

Drulias et al discloses outer body (12), an inner main body (34) which dispersible impregnated, bristle (26 & 22 nylon), a through hole .

43. (Previously Presented) A tooth-cleaning device comprising:

an inner main body (12);

engaging means, formed within said inner main body, for engaging a human tongue;

a dispersible substance impregnated (34) within said inner main body; and bristles (26) covering an outer surface of said inner main body, whereby when placed by a user in the mouth, the bristles come into contact with the teeth and the gums so as to remove food particles and said dispersible substance is released from said inner main body.

44. (New) A tooth-cleaning device as in claim 1 wherein:

said engaging means comprises a through hole (12).

45. (New) A tooth-cleaning device as in claim 1 wherein:

said engaging means comprises an inner cavity.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 46-48 are allowed.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

c. Suggestion 1. through small passages provided into said main body with a deformable main body 2 being impregnated with said dispersible substance with in said passages wherein the structure of passages in the body in combination with the bristles doughnut shape with a through hole for the tongue

d. Suggest 2 just add this language to the independent claims 43, 46, and 49. Add this clause wherein said main body has small through passages extending from an inside cavity with with said impregnated dispersible substance which is pressure released into the bristles.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 7/21/2010 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

e. Claims 43-45 have drawn the same 112 first paragraph issues. The claims were amended and it was further explained how that amendment had the same problem but for slightly different reasons now. Claim 43 has been reworded but the term Impregnated seems to imply something out side of the device is supply some additional elements. The term by definition requires something or some matter be added to a surface being impregnated. Now the problem exist because of the aforementioned reasons.

f. New rejections have been recited in regard to both art and 112 first rejections.

g. The rejection still stands for the rejected claims and others have been allowed.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
